Canine Influenza Vaccine Nov 1– December 31, 2011

- ◆ Dogs can get the flu just like us and like us they should be vaccinated.
- ◆ The vaccination is called the Canine Influenza Vaccine
- ◆ The canine flu virus can be spread between dogs but not spread to humans
- ◆ The virus mimics “kennel cough” but cannot be treated with the Bordetella Vaccine
- ◆ 80% of infected dogs will develop signs of illness within several days
- ◆ Symptoms are coughing, runny nose and fever
- ◆ Early diagnosis and treatment can dramatically improve the chances of successful recovery and reduce further spread of the disease
